ElizaBeth Rohloff is an apparel designer and milliner offering sewing classes out of her home studio in SE Portland, OR. After 27 years with Portland Public Schools, she has retired teaching academically and is since instructing students from 6-70 years old in sewing construction and design. A background in theatre arts roots her passion for creative expression and thinking outside of the box, encouraging students to unleash their inner voice through clothing. With 40 years in Portland, she understands the need for sustainability and hand-crafting. Her aesthetic is spirited, sophisticated, stylish, and timeless. She has a sharp eye for detail and a lifelong love affair with fabrics and creating.

Ready-to-wear and Couture line are available. Unleash your creativity with ElizaBeth Rohloff Designs at Madame’s Millinery Home Boutique.
